

I killed the woman I love

The world can be cruel (she's a cruel bitch)
So cruel you can lose yourself in it (underground)
Down with the worms who only see themselves (underground)
So close to the world they can't see it (underground)
So they decide to hide in it (underground)
But if you remember what you actually have (above ground)
You'll move with the world being who you actually are (above ground)

A woman filled with so much love (too much love)
A woman filled with so much trust (too much trust)
That she has her head in the clouds (she's that tall)
But she didn't understand the world (she's that small)
So the world shot her in the face (but she doesn't understand)
And now she's no where to be found (no one can see her)
Because she's 6ft under ground (where I left her)
